Klement's Sausage Has Found It's Missing Link
Welcome Home Coupon Featured on Facebook

Milwaukee, WI (February 28, 2013)- At 8:00am on Thursday, February 28th, Klement's Sausage Company was officially notified by the Cedarburg Police Department that Guido, the Klement's Racing Italian Sausage, has been found.

"Klement's wants to thank the local community and media for all of their assistance getting the word out on our Missing Link," stated Rebecca Quella, Director of Marketing at Klement's Sausage. "Guido is still a little raw, but we are confident that he has all the ingredients to get back into action in time for the 2013 Baseball season."

Klement's Sausage received thousands of inquiries regarding the missing Klement's Racing Italian and fans addressing their concerns. Klement's is now in full force planning of an official "Welcome Home Guido" celebration. The tailgate party will take place shortly after the start of the baseball season and will be their way of thanking all of the well wishers and media for their contribution in finding the missing link. Information on the celebration and how fans can attend will be posted first on the Klement's Facebook and Twitter pages, as well as the Klement's website.

As an immediate thank you, Klement's has released a coupon for Klement's Italian Sausage links to be used at participating retail grocery stores on their Facebook page.

Headquartered in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, Klement's operates out of two production facilities that occupy over 220,000 square feet that produce quality sausage, meat and deli products and has nearly 500 local employees. The company began in 1956 with the foundation of a family's commitment to excellence. Klement's point of difference remains today as they continue to carve out a position of independent quality for generations past and yet to come. For more information, please visit www.klements.com.
